Good morning Lori,

I hope you enjoyed your vacation. I'm sorry to bother. The company that did the carpets didn't put a wet floor sign down and I didn't know they were doing the carpet unfortunately. I am ok just in pain. I have an appointment already with my orthopedic and I'm going to see the physical therapist. Thank you for checking back with me.

I need to make payment arrangement for my balance minus the down payment. I did inform the Lawyer at court that I would like that applied to my balance. I wanted to know if 150 every two weeks would be okay.

Hi Danielle,

I am so sorry to hear about your fall. I am just returning from being out of state on vacation and just saw your email.

How are you feeling? What did the hospital say?

My out of office message gave contact information to reach out to Tiehira. Did you by any chance contact her?

May I contact you tomorrow to get more details? Please let me know the best number and time to reach you.

I am so sorry this happened, and I hope you are feeling better and that your move went well.

Hello Lori,

I was moving out today and the people who cleaned the entry way had the floors slippery and wet with no wet floor signs around to warn me. It caused me to fall and hurt myself while I was caring items out. This is very dangerous and I dread to think if it had been Mrs. Molly from the other unit who would have fell. I'm going to go to the hospital to get checked out because I hit my head also and my back and legs hurt extremely bad as I am still recovering from my car accident.

Yes, you did pay 2 months rent at move in. They were applied to your first 2 months. We don't hold anything but your security deposit.
