

5/4 @ 145 Pm.

The resident approached we in regards to maintenance entering her Apartment. She stated she doesn't like Anybody in her unit when she isn't there. Robin Morrison gave her a courtesy call because the leak was in her bathroom.

She walked away, then returned and said "She's gonna contact her lawyer if this shit don't stop."

She walked away and returned a third time and said "She has the money, and will not stop until I lose my job."

She walked away and never returned. She was very intoxicated
