" A mistake
is something
that you did
thinking it was right
but it was wrong.

A sin
is something
that you know
is wrong."

There comes a time in your life, when you walk away from all the drama and the people who create it.

You surround yourself with people who make you laugh.
Forget the bad, and focus on the good. Love the people who treat you right, pray for the ones who don't. Life is too short to be anything but happy.

Falling down is a part of life.
Getting back up is living.

~Jose' N. Harris

A black and white photograph of a person walking on a mountain trail towards a snow-capped peak. The person is small in the frame, walking away from the viewer on a narrow path that winds through a dark, rocky landscape. In the background, a large, rugged mountain range is visible, with the highest peaks covered in snow and partially shrouded in mist. The sky is a uniform, light gray.

Strong people will automatically stop trying if they feel unwanted. They won't fix it or beg. They will just walk away.
