the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are poor has increased by 1 billion, from 1.2 billion in 1980 to 2.2 billion in 1999.

There are two main reasons why the number of people in the world who are poor has increased. First, the world population has increased by 1 billion in the last 20 years.

Second, the world's resources have been depleted, and the environment has been damaged. This has led to a decline in the world's food supply, and a rise in the price of food.

As a result, many people who were previously able to afford food are now unable to do so. This has led to a rise in the number of people who are poor.

There are also a number of other factors that have contributed to the increase in the number of people who are poor. These include:

- The loss of jobs in the manufacturing sector.

- The increase in the cost of housing.

- The increase in the cost of education.

- The increase in the cost of health care.

- The increase in the cost of transportation.

- The increase in the cost of food.

- The increase in the cost of clothing.
