RE: Dog Bite

You are receiving this notice to make sure your dog is crated, in a bedroom or not in your apartment tomorrow, Thursday, February 27th. I'm asking you to relocate your dog because there is a water leak coming from your bathroom that is causing problems in the bathroom below your apartment. Maintenance cannot enter your apartment due to the risk of being bitten by your dog.

Maintenance needs to repair the leak asap! I have attempted to call and email you, but haven't heard back from you. If your dog is still in the apartment tomorrow, February 27th, and maintenance cannot fix the water leak, we will come back with the police or animal control to remove your dog from the apartment so maintenance can repair the water leak.

We need more cooperation from you! We need you to be more flexible in allowing maintenance to enter your apartment when needed or in an emergency, regardless if there is a dog in your apartment. If we continue having issues of not being able to enter your apartment to perform maintenance repairs, we will be forced to terminate your lease.

Please make sure your dog is crated, in a bedroom or not in your apartment tomorrow, Thursday, February 27th. Please contact me if you have any questions.

Yours,

Stephen Cicala
